VI. VDMT FIELD LIAISON

In the early stages of a disaster, it is vital to try to positively influence the efforts of local governments in the area of Volunteers and Donations. Often times, there are individuals managing volunteers and donations that might not know all of the resources available and standard issues that arise. To that end, the State VDMT will attempt to send a Field Liaison into the effected disaster area, no more than 48 hours after a significant event. The Liaison will be offered to the local emergency manager, and at no time, self deploy without local approval.

The VDMT Field Liaison will:

- Receive a tasking from the State EOC along with local POC who is managing volunteers and/or donations;
- Link up with the local POC to provide guidance and assistance anywhere from half day to a week as necessary;
- Report back to VDMT with any needed resource needs, questions, or issues that may arise during the incident response and recovery.

Federal Support can also be gained from contacting FEMA Region VII, through EMAC, or by requesting support from staff at AidMatrix.

Donated Resources Program:

Under the Stafford Act Public Assistance program, the value of donated resources may be used to offset the state and local portion of the cost share for emergency work (Categories A and B). The term “donated resources” includes volunteer labor, donated equipment, and donated materials. The amount of credit that can be applied to a project is capped at the non-federal share so that the federal share will not exceed the applicant’s actual out-of-pocket costs. Any excess credit can be applied to other emergency work projects of the same applicant.

Donated resources must apply to actual emergency work, such as debris removal or the filling and placing of sandbags. The donated services must be documented and must include a record of hours worked, the work site, and a description of work.

Volunteer labor will be valued at the same hourly labor rate used for someone in the applicant’s organization performing similar work. If the Applicant does not have employees performing similar work, then the rate should be consistent with those ordinarily performing the work in the same labor market.

The value for donated equipment should be determined by using the applicable FEMA equipment rate and multiplying it by the number of hours the piece of equipment was used to perform eligible work.

Donated materials are valued at the current commercial rate. If the materials were donated by a federal agency, such as sandbags donated by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, the value of the materials cannot be applied for volunteer credit.
